New In-Cab Program for Pratt Logistics

This summer, the Logistics team is transitioning to a new in-cab program called Instinct. Through this program, our in-cab devices will operate like smartphones, with each function accessible through its own app. The core functions of our current system will remain.

This update will allow the back office to directly send approved apps to drivers' devices. The Sentix Safety training app is the first to be rolled out, with more to follow.

We are working to update all trucks by the end of summer.

Spotlight on Safety

Pratt Safety Lessons Pay Off at Home

Safety lessons learned at Pratt recently proved invaluable for a Lewisburg team member's family. The Lewisburg controller's daughter and boyfriend discovered a motorbike on fire next to their neighbor's house. Unable to find a fire extinguisher, the boyfriend grabbed a Pratt fire blanket, received as a Safety Award gift.

He used the blanket to smother the flames, stopping the fire from spreading and preventing major damage to the house. This quick action highlights how Pratt's commitment to safety extends beyond the workplace, making a real difference when it matters most.
