Our Carlisle, PA corrugating team recently held a successful school supply drive, collecting over 100 pounds of school supplies for local students. These donations will benefit Project SHARE, a community organization that provides essential support to families in need.

Retiree to Volunteer

Sherwin Warren of our Statesville, NC corrugator recently retired, but was searching for what to do in his free time. Not long after his retirement, Samaritan's Purse called and asked for his assistance helping recent victims of Hurricane Helene in North Carolina. Cheers to Sherwin on his retirement and for the gracious help he's giving to others.

Spotlight on Safety

Safety Manager Conference

Last month, Pratt's safety managers attended the annual safety conference in Atlanta, GA. This year, learning sessions included accident investigation & fraud protection, safety committees, injury case mgmt., DOT policies, LOTO, OSHA recordability and inspections, as well as a refresher course on environmental issues. Loss trends, incident data review, and an overview of the SMETA audit process were also presented. This was also a great opportunity for the managers to network with their peers from other locations and divisions throughout the company. To kick off the conference, there was an exercise called the "egg drop challenge". Each team had to design and build a protective barrier for their egg made out of common PPE the plants use and some of the materials they make at the plant. The egg was dropped and fortunately, every team successfully protected the egg!
